SECOND DECLARATION OF SUSAN BAILEY

SUSAN BAILEY declares under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the following is true and correct:

1. I have worked as non-attorney staff at the law firm of Rabinowitz, Boudin, Standard, Krinsky & Lieberman, P.C. ("RBSKL") since 2010.
2. Between January 1 and February 7, 2021, I conducted searches on the internet and took the other actions described in this Declaration. As more fully described below, these actions showed:
 - a. Several instances of actual confusion by U.S. consumers between the General Cigar COHIBA cigar and the Cuban COHIBA cigar, see Paragraphs 3-10 below;

b. Instances in which General Cigar links its COHIBA cigars to Cuba through its COHIBA Brand Ambassador's posting on his General Cigar COHIBA Brand Ambassador social media accounts: an image of General Cigar's COHIBA cigars together with an image of Fidel Castro; images of the General Cigar's Brand Ambassador's trip to Cuba; and a positive comment on a social media post by a cigar retail store that posted images of General Cigar's COHIBA cigars together with the hashtags "#cubancigars", "#cuba" and "#habanos", see Paragraphs 11-16 below;

c. Instances of U.S. cigar retailers' linking General Cigar's COHIBA cigars to the Cuban COHIBA cigar and Cuba in the descriptions of General Cigar's COHIBA cigars, see Paragraphs 17-18, 22 below;

d. Instances of U.S. cigar retailers' linking General Cigar's COHIBA cigars to the Cuban COHIBA cigar by posting images of General Cigar's COHIBA cigars on social media together with images of the Cuban COHIBA design, see Paragraphs 19-20 below;

e. Instances of U.S. cigar retailers' linking General Cigar's COHIBA cigars to the Cuban COHIBA cigar and Cuba by posting images of General Cigar's COHIBA cigars on social media together with the hashtags "#cubancigars", "#cuba" and/or "#habanos", see Paragraphs 16, 21 below;

f. An article about the Cuban COHIBA cigar in a U.S. publication (print and online version) directing its readers to General Cigar's website for its COHIBA cigars, see Paragraph 23 below;

g. Numerous internet postings by U.S. consumers, as well as one by General Cigar, demonstrating that U.S. consumers do not know whether it is legal or illegal to purchase Cuban cigars in the United States, see Paragraphs 25-34 below;

h. That searches for “Cuban Cohiba” and “Cohiba Cuban cigars” on the search engines Bing and Yahoo, two of the top three search engines in the United States, result in the prominent display of General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars, including in these search engines’ “Shopping” results, and direct U.S. persons to websites to purchase General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars, see Paragraphs 35-39 below;

i. That General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars are sold at convenience stores in the United States, see Paragraph 40 below;

j. That General Cigar’s premium COHIBA cigars are frequently sold on CigarBid individually for $2 to $5 per cigar, in packs of five (5) cigars for $12 to $14 and in packs of ten (10) cigars for $17 to $19.50, see Paragraph 41 below;

k. That the words “Republica Dominicana” on the bands of General Cigar’s Red Dot, Blue, Black and Connecticut COHIBA cigars are in tiny print, in silver lettering against a silver background and not readily visible, see Paragraph 41(b) below; and

l. Instances in which General Cigar displays the mark COHIBA without a red dot in the mark, see Paragraph 42 below.

In addition to the foregoing, I provide a comparison of the lettering of the word COHIBA in: (i) General Cigar’s 1995 USPTO Trademark Registration (Registration No. 1,898,273); (ii) General Cigar’s prior and current uses of the mark COHIBA; (iii) prior and current uses of the Cuban COHIBA mark; and (iv) uses of COHIBA by third parties that General Cigar has alleged are likely to cause confusion. See Paragraph 43 below.

The evidence included in this Declaration is in addition to other evidence Petitioner has submitted in this proceeding showing, among other things: actual confusion by U.S. consumers between the General Cigar and Cuban COHIBA cigars; General Cigar, cigar retailers and others in the United States associating the General Cigar COHIBA cigar with the Cuban COHIBA cigar and Cuba; lack of knowledge by U.S. consumers of whether or not it is legal to purchase Cuban cigars in the United States; the price point of cigars, including General Cigar's COHIBA cigars, in the United States; the care with which U.S. consumers purchase cigars; and the other evidence included in this Declaration.

I. Instances of Actual Confusion

A. Cigars International

3. On Cigars International's webpage offering for sale General Cigar's COHIBA cigars together with Montecristo cigars and a cigar humidor, a "Verified Buyer" Timothy C. left a Customer Review that states: "I thought the Cohiba cigars would be from Cuba not the Dominican Republic." See Exhibit 1 attached hereto. This Customer Review is dated October 7, 2016.

Cigars International is a cigar retailer located in the United States that is owned by the same company as General Cigar. It sells cigars, including General Cigar's COHIBA cigars, online, through catalogs and at retail locations in the United States. Cigars International's website also allows persons buying cigars from this website to leave "Customer Reviews" on the website. See below and Exhibit 1 attached hereto.

Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of what appeared on my screen when I went to the Cigars International's webpage located at <https://www.cigarsinternational.com/p/cohiba-montecristo-humidor-collection-samplers/1494239/>.

Timothy C. undoubtedly is a person located in the United States, as Cigars International only sells to persons located in the United States and its territories. When I went to purchase a cigar from the Cigars International website on February 2, 2021, it made me fill out a “Shipping Address” with a dropdown menu for the “Country” field that only allowed me to enter in the United States or one of its territories. Additionally, on February 2, 2021, I called the telephone number identified on Cigars International’s “Contact Us” webpage (1-888-244-2790) and spoke with one of Cigars International’s representatives who told me that Cigars International only sells within the United States. Cigars International’s website states that: it is headquartered in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania with store locations only in the United States; and it “sell[s] an extensive range of handmade cigars directly to 885,000 US consumers.” It is owned by Scandinavian Tobacco Group A/S. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 1 are true and correct copies of what appeared on my screen when I went to Cigars International’s “About Us” and “Contact Us” webpages and the webpage that appeared when I went to purchase a cigar from the Cigars International website.

B. CigarBid

4. On January 26, 2021, I went to a cigar forum discussion on CigarBid that took place between August 9-12, 2019 and is posted and visible to the public at www.cigarbid.com/Forum/c/posts/m/4426543/FNG and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.

In that post, the initial poster, with the account name “GetNBy929”, states:

Making my rounds. On and off enjoying the leaf for a few years now. Introduced with a true Cuban red dot years ago and been chasing it ever since. Found a few I like and a few so so. I have been stalking the forums and decided to introduce myself officially. Hello, fire away.

A person, with the account name “clintCigar”, responds:

Welcome to the madhouse!

Do you mean Cohiba Red Dot?

GetNBy929 replies:

Yes a CC Cohiba red dot [“CC” stands for “Cuban cigar,” see below]

clintCigar replies in response to GetNBy929’s comment “Yes a CC Cohiba red dot”:

I’m pretty sure all the Cohiba Red Dots are not Cubans. They are Dominican.

clintCigar then refers GetNBy929 to a Wikipedia entry at https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cohiba_\(cigar_brand\)) for a “Cohiba history lesson.”

GetNBy929 then replies:

As far as the red dot origin, it was about 16 years ago on an island and there was a specific wrapper on it that said havana, young, dumb,..., still uneducated.

Another person, with the account name “Pudding Mittens” then states:

Yup the red dot ones are Dominican, not Cuban, unless I’m going senile and my memory is failing....

A fourth person, with the account name “delta1” then states:

don’t recall ever seeing anything about Cuban Cohibas with a Red Dot name... welcome to the asylum GetNBy...

GetNBy929 then replies:

Yeah looking back at things I did have a true CC cohiba robusto. The red dot was my first attempt to replicate back home. The yellow with black and white dots behind the head with the raised lettering I distinctly remember it now after seeing it. Anyways, now I am yearning for another.

CigarBid (www.cigarbid.com) describes itself as “America’s #1 Online Cigar Auction” website. CigarBid also has on its cigar auction website a Community Forum that allows users to post comments. Anyone on the internet can view these comments; however, only users registered on CigarBid and located in the United States can post comments. See below in this Paragraph 4. CigarBid’s Community Forum webpage states that “[s]ince March 29, 2000, 10,603 users have made 4,518,869 posts in 218,250 topics” on its Community Forum. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 2 is a true and correct copy of CigarBid’s Community Forum homepage.

In order to post a comment on one of CigarBid’s cigar forum discussions, I needed to register on CigarBid’s website; when I went to register on CigarBid’s website, the website required me to enter in an address in the United States or one of its territories. Attached hereto as Exhibit 2A is a true and correct copy of what appeared on my screen when I went to register as a user on CigarBid’s website.

Attached hereto as Exhibit 3 is a true and correct copy of an article on Stogie Press dated September 23, 2019 titled “Cigar 101: Wtf Are These Cigar Acronyms And Terms?” by Mike Holmes that I printed and downloaded from <https://stogiepress.com/cigar-101-wtf-are-these-cigar-acronyms-and-terms-by-mike-holmes/>. This article explains what numerous cigar abbreviations and terms mean. It states that “CC” stands for “Cuban Cigar” and “NC” is a “Non Cuban” cigar. Stogie Press indicates on its website that it is located in Melbourne, Florida. See Exhibit 3.

C. Reddit

5. Reddit (www.reddit.com) is an online discussion forum based in the United States. The Reddit website states that “Reddit is a growing family of millions of diverse people sharing the things they care about most” that has over 52 million active users and over 50 billion monthly views. See “Press” section of the Reddit website, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 4.

Anyone on the internet can see Reddit posts, even if she or he does not have a Reddit account and is not a member of a Reddit community; however, only persons with Reddit accounts can make posts to Reddit or become a member of a Reddit community. See Reddit, “Can anyone post to Reddit,” available at <https://reddit.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/205166565-Can-anyone-post-on-Reddit->, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 4. Reddit users makes posts to specific Reddit “communities” which are a collection of posts concerning a certain topic. See Reddit, “What is Reddit,” available at <https://reddit.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/articles/204511479-What-is-Reddit->, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 4.

In this Declaration, I identify posts made by users to two Reddit communities – the “cigars” community and the “Ask Reddit” community.

The Reddit “cigars” community describes itself as “Of, or relating to, the business of cigars”—“A virtual lounge for all of your cigar needs. Come in, pick out a smoke, and sit down and enjoy the conversation of other enthusiasts as we discuss our favorite smokes and pairings, news and latest releases in the cigar industry, and much, much more.” As of February 7, 2021, the “cigar” community had one hundred and thirteen thousand, and sixty-nine (113,069) members. A “member” of a community sees posts to that community when she or he first logs into her or his Reddit account. Attached hereto as Exhibit 5 is a true and correct copy of the main Reddit “cigars” community page.

The “Ask Reddit” community states that it “is the place to ask and answer thought-provoking questions” and that, as of February 7, 2021, it has thirty-one million, three hundred forty-one thousand, eight hundred and five (31,341,805) members. Attached hereto as Exhibit 6 is a true and correct copy of the main “Ask Reddit” community page.

6. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Is there a Cohiba Dominican Equivalent of a Cohiba Siglo I?” posted on October 2, 2018 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “SkiAMonkey” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/9krnwa/is_there_a_cohiba_dominican_equivalent_of_a/

a/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 7.

In that post, “SkiAMonkey” asks:

Is there a Cohiba Dominican Equivalent of a Cohiba Siglo I? Just looking for a similar 42 ring 102mm length Cohiba that is available in the US. Any help is appreciated, thanks!

I have reviewed General Cigar’s website for its COHIBA cigar (www.cohiba.com) and the website that lists the different types of Cuban COHIBA cigars (www.habanos.com). General Cigar does not make a Siglo I COHIBA cigar; there is a Cuban Siglo I COHIBA cigar.

One of the individuals who responded to this post states:

I’m sure you can find a Dominican Cohiba in a similar size, but it will not be any more ‘equivalent’ than any other cigar in that size. There is no relation between the companies that produce Dominican and Cuban Cohibas. The name thing is just misleading

The original poster (“SkiAMonkey”) replies to this comment by stating:

Ahh, TIL.

“TIL” is a common abbreviation on Reddit for “Today I Learned.” See article attached hereto as Exhibit 8 from Lifewire dated April 4, 2020 showing that “TIL” is a common abbreviation on Reddit for “Today I Learned” and describing the history of this abbreviation. Lifewire’s “About Us” and “Contact Us” webpages indicates that Lifewire is located in New York, New York and that it “provides expert-created, real-world technology content for more than 10 million users like you every month. We have more than 50 technology professionals — software developers, educators, web designers, speakers, consultants, and more — all producing articles with informative visuals and straightforward instruction.” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 8 is a true and correct copy of Lifewire’s “About Us” and “Contact Us” webpages.

Other posts by “SkiAMonkey,” including around the same time as the above-referenced post, indicate that this person is located in the United States. For example, in approximately 2019 this user posted “Visited Green Bay over the weekend” and shows a man in a Chicago Bears hat outside of Lambeau Field in Green Bay, Wisconsin. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 7 is a true and correct copy of this Reddit post. Another post by this user from approximately 2016 pastes a notice from Northwestern Pritzker School of Law (located in Chicago, Illinois) and other posts discuss Chicago topics.

7. On February 7, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “First Cohiba, Red dot” posted on January 5, 2021 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “outlandish229” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/kr7peb/first_cohiba_red_dot/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 9.

In this post, “outlandish229,” who, in another post states that he just got into smoking cigars this year, see below, states:

First Cohiba, Red dot [and attaching an image of General Cigar’s COHIBA Red Dot cigar]

A Reddit user with the account name “YNWA” responds:

The problem is you spent money on them only because of their name, disregarding whether or not they are worth the money. They're not. All of the heritage brands simply exist to grab sales based on their world famous Cuban marca namesakes. And it works! They make a killing, the only problem is their cigars generally suck balls. Ok maybe thats a bit harsh, they only suck one ball. The point is that your money is being wasted on subpar cigars sold at a big markup. There are tons of cigar companies doing it right and making a much better product for the same money, and in most cases for less money. Here's a very similar recent thread to look over, with a lot of recommendations if you're interested.

A Reddit user with the account name “antediluvian” responds:

The Cohiba is probably the best in the aforementioned lot. Not bad for the price on CBid. Would say the best offering by a well known Cuban company. The black one is fairly good. Wouldn't pay retail though.

A Reddit user with the account name “lurker_to_poster” responds to “antediluvian”'s comment that ‘Would say the best offering by a well known Cuban company.’

----- ‘Would say the best offering by a well known Cuban company.’

No. No. No no no no no no no no.

These are NOT Cuban Cohibas and this is not a Cuban company, well known or not. This is a Dominican company making cheap cigars that they call "Cohiba" because the "well known Cuban company" can't enforce their trademark rights or protection in the U.S. They're cheap $3 cigars that online retailers and stores mark up to $10-$15-$20 because they can fool unknowledgeable American consumers into paying top dollar for what they THINK is an "offering by a well known Cuban company." They're not.

If the OP [original poster] is paying $5 for them, that's not really that bad, and if he enjoys them, he's certainly within his rights to smoke them. But when people like you tell others that they're an "offering by a well known Cuban company," they're not.

“YNWA” states:

LISTEN TO THIS MAN.

“outlandish229” responds:

“YNWA” states:

Imagine Sweden becoming a communist hellhole and isolated from the world. The next day I open up Saab in America and start selling a shittier version just because I can, using the same name, and everyone thinks it's still affiliated with the original. I'd be a giant douche, right?

“outlandish229” responds:

Absolutely. Just read about their court case from 2010. Pretty shitty to steal a brand from right underneath a company.

“lurker_to_poster” then states:

If they just called them "Red Dots" and sold them for $3, $4, $5, whatever, I'd have no problem with them. Let people who smoke cheap cigars smoke them at a fair price. But when they steal the name "Cohiba", and sell them for $10-$15-$20 because of name recognition, NOT because they're $10-$20 cigars, I have a problem with that. I hate seeing my BOTL and SOTL getting ripped off.

“antediluvian” then responds:

Who cares. They aren't bad and you can pick them up for 3 bucks on CBid. That's my point.

“lurker_to_poster” states:

Then stop spreading misinformation that they're "the best offering by a well known Cuban company." This is a forum for people to discuss and learn about cigars, and not to be fed misinformation.

“antediluvian” states:

Red dot is a great cigar for the price. Regardless of what company it comes from fake or not.

Glad you are here to show everyone the light.

“outlandish229” states:

Yeah I have a couple of those I got in the sampler packs. I've just been trying a lot of different smokes while trying to fill up the massive humidor my girlfriend got me for christmas. Trying to see what I like as well. Wanted to at least try a couple of them based on the hype. Don't think I would buy them again, but the one I had was worth 5 bucks to me.

“YNWA” states:

This is exactly the problem - you're mistaken, though it's not really your fault. You've been tricked, like many others before you.

Another post on Reddit by the user “outlandish229”, posted on December 25, 2020 states: “Just got into cigars this past year, and my girlfriend bought me a beautiful case elegance humidor for Christmas.” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 9 is a true and correct copy of that Reddit post, located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/kk1i5g/just_got_into_cigars_this_past_year_and_my/.

Other posts by “outlandish229,” as well as the fact that he was smoking a General Cigar COHIBA Red Dot cigar, which is only sold in the United States, indicates that this person is located in the United States. For example, in one post from November 26, 2020, “outlandish229” states “Unfortunately I don't have an academy [this is a name of a store] near me, the closest one is about 2 hours away, and here in florida every store I've been to is taxing out the ass.” In another post, dated October 8, 2020, “outlandish229” states “I'm in florida, and the only local stores that sell knives here are Walmart, and a place called sur la table, and they only really carry henckels, miyabi, wusthof, and Bob kramer.” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 9 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

Other posts by “antediluvian,” including numerous posts discussing U.S. politics, as well as the fact that he indicates that he buys General Cigar COHIBA cigars, which are only sold in the United States, indicate that this person is located in the United States.

8. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Headed to the cigar lounge tmrw. Anyone want to recommend a Cohiba?” posted on June 10, 2018 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “jhurle9403” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/8q38m1/headed_to_the_cigar_lounge_tmrw_anyone_want_to/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 10.

In that post, “jhurle9403” asks:

Headed to the cigar lounge tmrw. Anyone want to recommend a Cohiba? My normal go to is a Romeo e Julieta 1875 but I’m wanting to broaden my experiences. What’s your favorite Cohiba?

One person, with the account name “Icecream_and_cigars”, responding to this comment states:

DO NOT buy a Cohiba from a cigar lounge. They're average cigars that are crazy overpriced.

Buy something by Arturo Fuente. Look for Arturo Fuente Hemmingway. They're not hard to find. Or something with AJ Fernandez in the name. He works with lots of different companies to blend cigars and his stuff is generally very good.

Seriously--do not pay ridiculous prices for a Cohiba just because of the name. The company has no connection to the Cuban cigar. It's just a marketing gimmick.

The original poster (“jhurle9403”) responds to this comment by stating:

Good to know thanks

Another person, with the account name “lurker_to_poster” states:

Please, please don't buy a non-Cuban Cohiba at a B&M. They're meh $3 cigars that you can get in samplers FOR $3, that B&Ms sell for upwards of $10 because of the name, which General Cigar ripped off from Habanos S.A. because Habanos S.A. can't legally sell real Cohibas in the U.S.

There are so, so many better $10-$15 cigars that you can get for your money. [“lurker_to_poster” then recommends certain cigars]

“B&M” stands for “brick and mortar” retail stores. See supra Exhibit 3. Non-Cuban Cohiba cigars are only sold at brick and mortar retail stores in the United States.

The original poster (“jhurle9403”) responds to this comment by stating:

Awesome thanks!

A third person, with the account name “cigarshopmanager,” that Reddit indicates is located in Alabama, responds to the response by “lurker_to_poster” by stating, among other things:

You have no clue what you are talking about. First off, General leases the rights from for cohiba, they handle distribution throughout north America.

Other posts by “jhurle9403” indicate that this person is located in the United States. For example, in one post from approximately May 2020, this user states “Do you vote? If so, for whom? While I did vote for trump in 2016, I believe I’ll vote for Jacob Hornberger in 2020.” In another post from approximately August 2020, this user asks “I’m starting to look for a condo in Atlanta/Buckhead. There doesn’t seem to be a lot of online information on which buildings are built well and have good sound insulation. If you live in an Atlanta condo, I’d appreciate your feedback, good or bad. Thanks!” A third post from approximately 2020, states “My little sister (15) makes these American flag blankets to help save for college. So proud of her! 120+ hours of work.” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 10 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

9. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Review #1 Cohiba Red Dot Toro en Tubo” posted on April 21, 2018 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “AnIncoherentWhiteGuy” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/8e0oqg/review_1_cohiba_red_dot_toro_en_tubo/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 11.

In that post, “AnIncoherentWhiteGuy”, who says that he is “still pretty new to cigars” reviews a General Cigar Red Dot en Tubo COHIBA cigar (and posts a picture of same, a true and correct copy of which is attached as part of Exhibit 11). General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars are only sold in the United States, see, e.g., Declaration of Steven Abbot, ¶ 21, dated September 29, 2020, 287 TTABVUE 14, and so “AnIncoherentWhiteGuy” must be located within the United States. He says that he “was really looking forward to this stick [cigar] given the reputation of Cohiba” but that he was “not sure it was worth the ~$18 out the door” it cost him.

A person with the account name “YNWA” responded to the original poster by stating:

Just an fyi in case you don't know this already, but there are 2 Cohiba companies - the Cuban and the non-Cuban - and they're not at all affiliated with each other. Way back when, the Cuban companies (aka the Cuban govt) sold the rights to their brand names to American companies who then started making cigars under those names but using tobacco from Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic. The whole point, of course, was to cash in on the famous name brand. And it worked, because many newer cigar smokers feel the same way you did when you said "I was really looking forward to this stick given the reputation of Cohiba." I'm not coming down on you at all, I'm just informing you a bit on the subject. So just keep in mind that the Cuban Cohiba reputation is entirely different than the non-Cuban Cohiba reputation. As others here have commented already, many people don't care for the non-Cuban Cohiba at all, myself included. Not only are the non-Cubans way overpriced (because of the name), they're just plain average in terms of quality and flavor. Of course opinions do vary, but there it is.

The original poster responds to this comment by stating:

Thanks for letting me know, since that's the case I'd love to try an authentic Cuban one someday!

Another individual responding to the original poster states:

I've gotten Red Dot Cohibas on Cigarbid for less than 3 dollars each. That MSRP is obscene. Having said that, I think most everyone overpays for stuff when they first get into cigars. Also I'm not a big fan of the Red Dots. They're pretty bland. The Black and the Nicaraguan were both pretty decent if you can get them for 5 bucks or less. I definitely wouldn't pay more than 6 bucks for any of the Non-Cuban Cohibas. They're all marketing set to sucker in newer cigar smokers. There's lots of companies like that in cigars. It's not easy to navigate at first. Keep at it and you'll find some good smokes for cheaper.

[T]hey're way cheaper than the big brands newer smokers get drawn into.

The original poster responds to this comment by stating:

Thanks for the recommendations! Looking forward to trying new things and learning how to avoid the beginners traps!

These posts include numerous hashtags by “excaliburcigarloungeb”; however, none of these posts include the hashtags “#habanos”, “#cubancigars” or “#cuba”.

III. U.S. Cigar Retailers Associate General Cigar COHIBA Cigar With Cuba And the Cuban COHIBA Cigar

17. On January 25, 2021, I went to the Cigar.com webpage located at <https://www.cigar.com/p/cohiba-tins-cigars/2000684/> and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 20. That website is offering for sale General Cigar's COHIBA cigarillo tins together with a description of those cigars that states:

Small size, big flavor.

Cohiba is the best-known name in cigars. After Castro took control of Cuba, this brand was commissioned by the Dictator to make the finest Cuban cigars available. Early on, they were reserved for dignitaries and high-ranking government officials. Over time the cigars became available to a wider audience, and are now considered the top cigar manufactured in Cuba today.

This website lists: a pack of ten (10) Cohiba Red Dot Miniatures for sale for $14.99; a pack of six (6) Cohiba Nicaragua Pequenos for sale for $14.85; a pack of six (6) Cohiba Red Dot Pequenos for sale for $14.99; and a pack of six (6) Cohiba Black Pequenos for sale for $15.99.

That website is offering for sale General Cigar's Macassar COHIBA cigars together with a description of that cigar that begins:

Mama-say, mama-sah, ma Macassar

Walk up to anyone on the streets, ask them to name a cigar brand, and chances are they're gonna say "Cohiba." Cohiba has built their legacy brick by brick for decades, from their Cuban origins to their innovative new blends like Cohiba Nicaragua. With Cohiba Macassar, the Modern Luxury line continues its epic streak of successes. This new blend represents the pinnacle of the brand's offerings. They're big shoes to fill, but I promise you, Cohiba Massacar is the real deal.

22. On January 19, 2021, I went to webpage for Rocky’s Cigars in Syracuse, New York and printed and downloaded to PDF its webpage for the General Cigar COHIBA Blue cigar, located at <https://rockyscigars.com/collections/cohiba-blue>. Attached hereto as Exhibit 26 is a true and correct copy of what appeared on my screen. It states, inter alia, “The legendary Cuban-heritage of Cohiba is not lost on this blue blend. It shows off more of an everyday smoke than its pricey cousin.”

Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 27 is a true and correct copy of the Instagram post dated October 10, 2019 and located at <https://www.instagram.com/p/B3cJ3QtHj4Z/> from the account of Sean Williams, General Cigar’s Brand Ambassador for its COHIBA cigar. It shows Sean Williams at Rocky’s Cigars in Syracuse, New York. I clicked on the words “Rocky’s News Stand” in this post and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 27.

23. On February 2, 2021, I reviewed the Fall/Winter 2016 issue of Navigator magazine. Attached hereto as Exhibit 28 is a true and correct copy of an article titled “Smoke on the Water: Cigars & Cognac” by Julia Zaltzman—as well as the cover, publishing information and index—from the Fall/Winter 2016 issue of Navigator magazine.

This article clearly shows Cuban COHIBA cigars—not the General Cigar COHIBA cigar—but directs its readers to the website for the General Cigar COHIBA cigar.

Navigator magazine states that it is published by N&J Media LLC located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Page 83 of this issue, in the article titled “Smoke on the Water: Cigars & Cognac” shows three cigars, one of which is the Cuban COHIBA cigar with the words “Habana, Cuba” clearly visible. The article describes the Cuban COHIBA cigars as “[a] classic Cuban Cohiba,” the “world-class Cohiba” and “[t]he very prestigious Cohiba Behike.”

The last page of this issue has a LUXURY INDEX, which includes the following entry for “COHIBA”:

On February 2, 2021, I went to the website located at www.cohiba.com. This is a website for the General Cigar COHIBA cigar.

On February 2, 2021, I went to the website of Northrop and Johnson to the section for Navigator magazine located at <https://www.northropandjohnson.com/media-publications/navigator/>. I printed out what appeared on the screen under the headline “The Quintessential Luxury Lifestyle Publication” which read, in part:

...As a Northrop & Johnson publication, Navigator is distributed to ultra-high net worth individuals around the world, including yacht owners and charterers, leaders in financial sectors, art dealers and collectors, philanthropists and other influencers. Each issue has a print run of 10,000 copies and can be found at Northrop & Johnson offices worldwide as well as all Northrop & Johnson and Northrop & Johnson partner’s events.

A true and correct copy of what appeared on my screen is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 29.

Northrop & Johnson's website indicates that it has offices in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Los Angeles, California, Newport Beach, California, San Diego, California, New York, New York and Newport, Rhode Island.

On January 26, 2021, I selected the Fall/Winter 2016 issue of Navigator that took me to the website https://issuu.com/northropjohnson/docs/navigator_issue_5?fr=sOTAyMjEwMDI4NA. I printed pages 82-85 and the LUXURY INDEX from the online version of this issue, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 30. The same text and images that appeared on pages 83-84 and in the LUXURY INDEX of the print version of this magazine (quoted above), also appeared in the online version.

When I clicked on the link www.cohiba.com in the LUXURY INDEX, the website for General Cigar's COHIBA cigars appeared on my screen. I took a screen shot of what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 31.

24. On January 28, 2021, I went to the webpage for "Cohiba Behike" in Cigars International's section titled "Cigars 101" and located at <https://www.cigarsinternational.com/cigar-101/cohiba-behike/2021882/> and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 32. This webpage states, inter alia:

If you're a cigar connoisseur like me, you know that Gurkha is reputable as the 'Rolls Royce' of cigars, and Cohiba does one better with Cohiba Behike as the Bentley of the brand. This prestigious cigar is an exclusive produced in extremely limited quantities. Gaining outstanding ratings, Cohiba Behike is one of the most sought-after cigars in the world!

This webpage shows a picture at the top of a magnifying glass over General Cigar's COHIBA cigars with the description "Cigar Counterfeits" and then describes how to identify a fake Cuban COHIBA Behike cigar. It states “[a]s your trusted cigar supplier, we would never want you to lose out on your wallet and the real deal. So we’ve got your back and have the expert tips to know how to spot a fake Behike” and goes on to describe the “famous Cohiba” describing the Cuban COHIBA design.

IV. Instances of U.S. Consumers Demonstrating that They Do Not Know Whether It Is Legal or Illegal to Purchase Cuban Cigars in the United States

25. In addition to the instances of actual confusion noted above, my searches showed numerous instances of U.S. consumers demonstrating a lack of knowledge about whether it is legal or illegal to purchase Cuban cigars in the United States.

A. Semrush, an Online Data Provider, Indicates There Are Frequent Searches on the Internet in the United States to Try to Find Out Whether It Is Legal or Illegal to Purchase Cuban Cigars in the United States

26. Semrush, an online data provider, reports that, on average, the following phrases were searched on search engines in the United States the indicated number of times, as described more fully below in this Paragraph 26:

Search Term	Number of Times Per Month This Search Was Conducted in the United States Over the Last 12 Months
“Are Cuban cigars legal in the US”	880
“Cuban cigars legal in US”	480
“Are Cuban cigars illegal in the US”	210
“are Cuban cigars sold in the US”	50
“are cuban cigars legal in the united states now”	20
“cuban cigars legal in us now”	20

I describe below in subparagraphs (a) and (b) where I located the information.

a. On January 28, 2021, I went to the website <https://www.semrush.com/dashboard/>. Under the “Keyword Research” on the left-hand side, I selected “Keyword Overview.” In the screen that appeared on my computer (the “Keyword Overview Page”), I typed in “Are Cuban cigars legal in the US” in the search bar next to “Keyword Overview” at the top of the screen and hit the “Search” button. I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 33. The results show that the “Volume” for this search query is 880 in the United States. I then placed my mouse over the question mark next to the heading labelled “Volume” and a window popped up explaining that “Volume” is “The average number of monthly searches for the analyzed keyword over the last 12 months.” I took a photograph of what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 33. I then went to the webpage <https://www.semrush.com/kb/683-what-is-search-volume-in-semrush> printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 33. This webpage explains that “Search volume is the average number of times a specific search query is entered on a search engine per month. The volume in the main SEMrush database represents the number of searches using national level data. Therefore, volume can change when you change the regional database you're viewing (US, Canada, UK, etc).”

b. On the Keyword Overview Page, typed in the other phrases identified in the chart above in the search bar next to “Keyword Overview” and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen when I searched for these other terms, true and correct copies of which are attached hereto as part of Exhibit 33.

c. Semrush’s website states that it is “a trusted data provider whose data on search volume, correlation, website traffic and digital trends is used by the biggest media outlets around the world” and that it is “regularly featured in” Bloomberg, Reuters, The Washington Post, Daily Mail and the Herald Sun. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 33 is a true and correct copy of Semrush's Trusted Data Provider webpage.

B. General Cigar Recognizes that U.S. Consumers Do Not Know Whether It Is Legal or Illegal to Purchase Cuban Cigars in the United States

27. On January 15 and 29, 2021, I went to the "Cigar Frequently Asked Questions" webpage of the Cigar World website which is operated by General Cigar (see below) and located at <https://www.cigarworld.com/education/cigar-faqs/>. It indicates that it was "posted" to the Cigar World website "13 months ago" or in or around December 2019.

There are nine (9) Frequently Asked Questions on this page. One of them is:

Q: Are Cuban cigars legal in the United States?

A: No, due to the Cuban Revolution in 1959 and subsequent embargos, Cuban cigars are not allowed to be sold in the U.S. However travelers can bring back Cuban Cigars for personal consumption with certain limitations.

The other Frequently Asked Questions included on this page, include: "How do I smoke a cigar?"; "How do I cut a cigar?"; "How do I light a cigar?"; and "Are you supposed to inhale cigars?"

The Terms of Use of Cigar World website (<https://www.cigarworld.com/terms-of-participation/>) indicates that General Cigar operates this website. The homepage for the Cigar World website states that it is "the ultimate authority for all things cigar." I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen when I went to Cigar World's "Cigar Frequently Asked Questions" and its Terms of Use webpages as well as its homepage, true and correct copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibit 34.

C. There Are Numerous U.S. Consumers on Reddit Asking Whether It Is Legal Or Illegal to Purchase Cuban Cigars in the United States

28. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Now that the new Cuba travel and commerce rules start tomorrow, does this mean Cuban cigars are no longer illegal?” posted on January 15, 2015 to the Reddit “Ask Reddit” community by a user with the account name “coorlight3” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/AskReddit/comments/2skj1k/now_that_the_new_cuba_travel_and_commerce_rules/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 35.

In that post, “coorlight3” asks:

Now that the new Cuba travel and commerce rules start tomorrow, does this mean Cuban cigars are no longer illegal?

The first responder states:

Yes. You can't import them for sale, but you can bring a limited number back with you. I don't know what that number is.

The original poster (“coorlight3”) than responds:

So in other words, you cannot get in trouble for having Cuban cigars, but we wont be finding them at cigar/smoke shops?

The first responder replies:

At least for now.

Other posts by “coorlight3” indicate that this person is located in the United States. There were numerous posts referencing the United States or U.S.-related issues, such as posts titled “What did NBC's Brian Williams do to cause a controversy?”, “Do you think Jesse Ventura is a Democrat?”, “Do you like Senator Harry Reid?”, “Why would Obama want to create a second death tax?” and “Does Obama really know shit about sports or does he get his writers to tell him what to say?” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 35 is a true and correct copy of a list of Reddit posts by “coorlight3.”

29. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Is it now legal to buy Cuban cigars in the US?” posted on June 27, 2015 to the Reddit “Ask Reddit” community by a user with the account name “Evanescent_contrail” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/AskReddit/comments/3bas6m/is_it_now_legal_to_buy_cuban_cigars_in_the_us/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 36.

In that post, “Evanescent_contrail” asks:

Is it now legal to buy Cuban cigars in the US?

One of the persons responding states:

Google says ‘yes’

Other posts by “Evanescent_contrail” indicate that this person is located in the United States. For example, in approximately January 2018 this user posted “Is this an Osprey? Northeast USA, taken 10 minutes ago. There were three, circling.” Another post by the same user states “Snagged this little guy in Upstate NY last week” and shows an image of a bird. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 36 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

30. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “What's the best way to order (if possible) Cuban cigars in the US, now that they will be legal, after Monday?” posted on October 16, 2016 to the Reddit “Ask Reddit” community by a user with the account name “Mypurplejacket” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/AskReddit/comments/57pw1m/whats_the_best_way_to_order_if_possible_cuban/ and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 37.

In that post, “Mypurplejacket” asks:

What's the best way to order (if possible) Cuban cigars in the US, now that they will be legal, after Monday?

One person responds:

Sorry, not legal for sale, just personal use

A third person then asks:

How do you obtain them if nobody can sell them?

Other posts by “Mypurplejacket” indicate that this person is located in the United States.

For example, one post states “Looking for a Rideshare to Sheridan. Hello, I'm flying in from Alaska to Billings on Saturday Aug. 3rd and need a ride to Sheridan, WY. I was wondering if there might be anyone taking a trip to Sheridan that I could maybe catch a ride with.” Another post by “Mypurplejacket” provides another Reddit user with suggestions on things to do in Anchorage. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 37 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

31. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Can I buy Cuban Cigars Online If I Live in North America?” posted on June 1, 2020 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “TheRealRosey” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/gum4qj/can_i_buy_cuban_cigars_online_if_i_live_in_north/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 38.

In that post, “TheRealRosey” asks:

Can I buy Cuban Cigars Online If I Live in North America?

I know the laws have changed and am looking to get my hands on some Cuban cigars.

First, is it legal to buy them online if I live in the U.S.

Second, does anyone have a legitimate website I can buy with confidence from?

Thanks for any advice.

32. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Can I buy Cubans online legally?” posted on December 11, 2019 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “jetset459” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/e99n5e/can_i_buy_cubans_online_legally/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 39.

In that post, “jetset459” asks:

Can I buy Cubans online legally?

Our B&Ms in California aren’t legally supposed to sell Cubans. Although I know they all have that back room supply of the goodie goodie for the privileged, I am not even remotely that cool... yet!

I want to be like you guys and get my hands on Cubans. They are expensive and by the looks of it, imposters are everywhere and fakes are ubiquitous.

Can I order authentic Cuban cigars online and have them legally shipped to California?

I have seen many references to iHavana. Which is the best and most reliable retail website from which I can buy Cubans?

As shown above “B&M” stands for “brick and mortar” retail stores. See Paragraph 8 above.

33. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Are Cuban cigars now legal in the US? I've heard mixed responses” posted on February 3, 2020 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “aronkovacs” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/ey3gk9/are_cuban_cigars_now_legal_in_the_us_ive_ heard/ and took screen shots and printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 40.

In that post, “aronkovacs” asks:

Are Cuban cigars now legal in the US? I've heard mixed responses.

He later states:

I've heard about lifting the ban but I wasn't sure how to get them. My old T-store worker said there was a trademarking conflict with retailers but it didn't make sense the way he explained.

Other posts by “aronkovacs” indicate that this person is located in the United States. For example, one post from approximately November 2020 states “Good evening. I filed taxes for 2019. I moved across states, I had w-2s and 1099. Everything is calculated out by HR block, they give me a 1099 voucher, I sent the check. Yesterday IRS mails me a letter, their due amount shows double than HR block, I still owe. How does this happen and what should I do?” Another post states “Crappy photo, found in a pool in Las Vegas NV. It was brown and hairy. What could it be?” and shows a photograph of an insect in a pool. Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 40 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

34. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Reddit post titled “Cuban cigars illegal?” posted on March 17, 2018 to the Reddit “cigars” community by a user with the account name “NatesNewLife” and located at https://www.reddit.com/r/cigars/comments/858pwc/cuban_cigars_illegal/ and took screen shots, printed to PDF and downloaded what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 41.

In that post, “NatesNewLife” asks:

Cuban cigars illegal?

Have been reading that certain Cuban cigars are illegal. Are they all illegal or only some of them? Thanks.

One person responds:

It's not as clear cut as being legal or illegal ... They were and then they weren't and now they are again. This is speaking of the US, of course.

Other posts by "NatesNewLife" indicate that this person is located in the United States.

For example, one post from approximately May 2020 states "Are there any vape shops open? I live in a northern suburb of saint Paul and everything around here is closed." Several people respond with suggestions in the Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota area to which "NatesNewLife" responds "Thanks everyone!" Another post states "Went to L.A just edited one of my 100's of car photos." Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 41 are true and correct copies of these Reddit posts.

V. Leading Search Engines Direct U.S. Consumers Searching for the Cuban COHIBA Cigar to General Cigar's COHIBA Cigars

A. The Bing Search Engine

i. Search For "Cuban Cohiba"

35. On January 20 and 23, 2021, I double-clicked on the icon for the Bing web browser which came pre-installed on my computer. In the search engine window that opened by default on my computer (www.bing.com), I typed in "cuban cohiba" and the results for this search appeared on my screen (the "Bing Cuban Cohiba Search Results"). I took screen shots and downloaded and printed to PDF the Bing Cuban Cohiba Search Results, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 42. The first results appearing on my screen were a series of eighteen (18) images and links under the heading "See cuban cohiba." Each of these images was of a General Cigar COHIBA cigar. Each of these links directed me to a website that offered General Cigar's COHIBA cigars for sale. On January 23, 2021, I clicked on each of these links (except for the last one showing an image of a General Cigar COHIBA Red Dot Pequeños Cameroon for $14.99 at Thompson cigar) and took a screen shot of what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 42.

I copy below what first appeared on my screen when I searched for “cuban cohiba” on Bing’s search engine, www.bing.com, on January 23, 2021:

Cohiba

Cigar Brand

Cohiba is a brand for two kinds of premium cigar, one produced in Cuba for Habanos S.A., the Cuban state-owned tobacco company, and the other produced in the Dominican Republic for US-based General Cigar Company. The name cohiba derives from the Taino word for 'tobacco'.

On January 20, 2021, when I clicked on the entry for “Cohiba Black Robusto – SINGLE” in the Bing Cuban Cohiba Shopping Results, a page from Thompson Cigar offering the General Cigar COHIBA cigar appeared on my screen. I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 43. I purchased that cigar. A true and correct copy of my receipt and photograph of the cigar that was delivered to me is attached hereto as Exhibit 43.

I then went back to the Bing Cuban Cohiba Search Results and clicked on the link for “Explore Cuban Cohiba.” It took me to the Bing Cuban Cohiba Shopping Results that I describe above.

ii. Search For “Cohiba Cuban cigars”

36. On February 1, 2021, I double-clicked on the icon for the Bing web browser which came pre-installed on my computer. B. The Yahoo Search Engine

i. Search For “Cuban Cohiba”

37. On January 29, 2021, I entered the Yahoo search engine located at www.yahoo.com and searched for the term “Cuban Cohiba.” The results for this search appeared on my screen (the “Yahoo Cuban Cohiba Search Results”). I took a series of screen shots of the first page of search results and printed to PDF the Yahoo Cuban Cohiba Search Results, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 45. On the top right hand side of the first page of results were eight (8) images and links under the heading “Shop for Cuban Cohiba.” Each of these images was of a General Cigar COHIBA cigar. Each of these links directed me to a website that offered for sale General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars. I clicked on each of these links and took a screen shot of what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 45.

I copy below what first appeared on my screen when I searched for “Cuban Cohiba” on Yahoo’s search engine, www.yahoo.com:

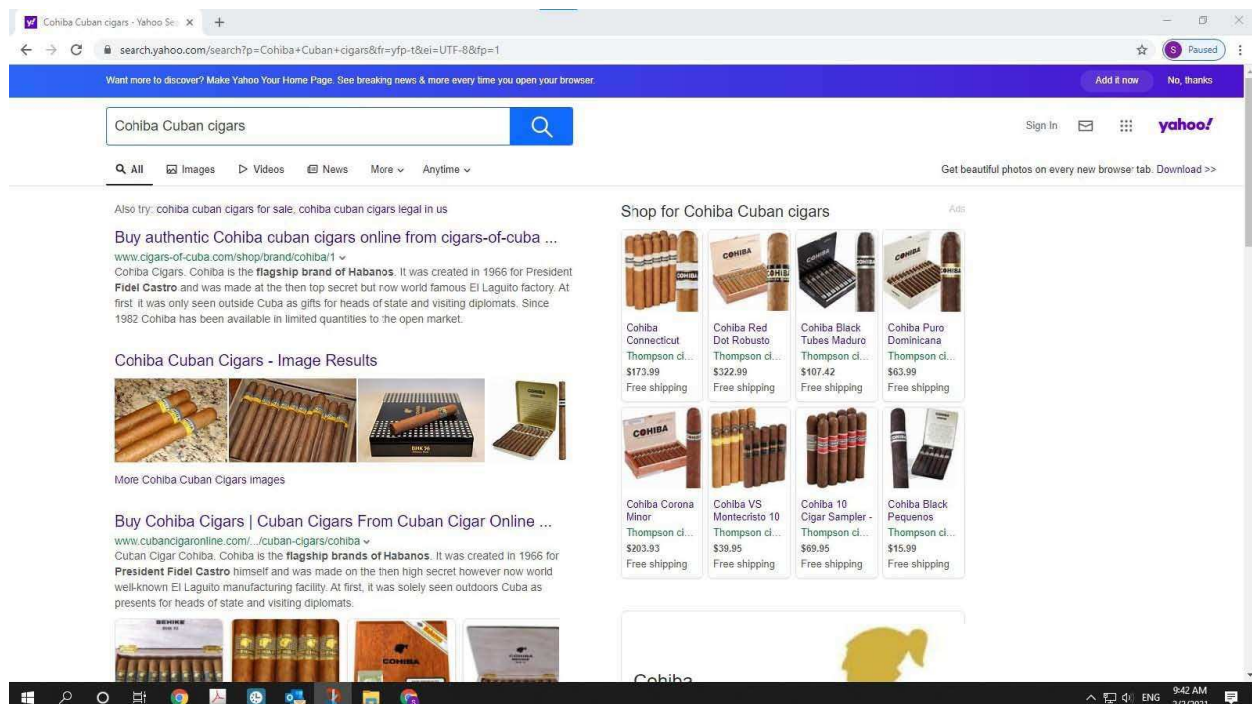

On the Yahoo Cuban Cohiba Search Results, I clicked on the link for “Cohiba Puro Dominicana” and was directed to the webpage of Thompson Cigar that was offering for sale General Cigar’s COHIBA Puro Dominicana cigar. I purchased this cigar from the Thompson Cigar website. A true and correct copy of my order and the COHIBA cigars that arrived are attached hereto as part of Exhibit 45.

ii. Search For “Cohiba Cuban cigars”

38. On February 2, 2021, I entered yahoo.com into my google browser and conducted a search. In the search engine window that opened in that search (www.yahoo.com), I typed in “Cohiba Cuban cigars” and the results for this search appeared on my screen (the “Yahoo Cohiba Cuban Cigars Search Results”). I took a series of screen shots of the first page of search results and printed to PDF the Yahoo Cohiba Cuban Cigars Search Results, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 46. On the top right hand side of the first page of the results were eight (8) images and links under the heading “Shop for Cohiba Cuban cigars.” Each of these images was of a General Cigar COHIBA cigar. Each of these links directed me to a website that offered for sale General Cigar's COHIBA cigars. I clicked on each of these links and took a screen shot of what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 46.

I copy below what first appeared on my screen when I searched for "Cohiba Cuban cigars" on Yahoo's search engine, www.yahoo.com:

C. Semrush and Statista, Online Data Providers, Indicate that Persons Located in the United States Frequently Search For the Terms "Cohiba Cuban Cigars" and "Cuban Cohiba" on Bing and Yahoo

39. As described more fully below in this Paragraph 39, Semrush and Statista, online data providers, indicate that persons located in the United States frequently search for the terms "Cohiba Cuban cigars" and "Cuban Cohiba" on Bing and Yahoo.

Semrush indicates that, over the last 12 months, persons in the United States searched for the term "Cohiba Cuban cigars" 6,600 times per month and searched for the term "Cuban Cohiba” 1,600 times per month; and Statista and Comscore indicate that Bing and Yahoo are the second and third most popular search engines in the United States.

a. On February 1, 2021, I went to the website <https://www.semrush.com/dashboard/>. Under the “Keyword Research” on the left-hand side, I selected “Keyword Overview.” In the screen that appeared on my computer (the “Keyword Overview Page”), I typed in “Cohiba Cuban cigars” in the search bar next to “Keyword Overview” at the top of the screen and hit the “Search” button. I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 47. The results show that the “Volume” for this search query is 6,600 in the United States.

I then placed my mouse over the question mark next to the heading labelled “Volume” and a window popped up explaining that “Volume” is “The average number of monthly searches for the analyzed keyword over the last 12 months.” See Exhibit 33 above. The webpage <https://www.semrush.com/kb/683-what-is-search-volume-in-semrush>, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 47, explains that “Search volume is the average number of times a specific search query is entered on a search engine per month. The volume in the main SEMrush database represents the number of searches using national level data. Therefore, volume can change when you change the regional database you're viewing (US, Canada, UK, etc).” (Emphasis original.)

b. I then went back to the Keyword Overview Page, typed in “Cuban Cohiba” in the search bar next to “Keyword Overview” at the top of the screen and hit the “Search” button. I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 47. The results show that the “Volume” for this search query is 1,600 in the United States.

c. On January 26, 2021, I went to the Statista website located at www.statista.com. While on that website, I searched for “Share of search queries handled by leading U.S. search engine providers,” clicked on the link to “Market share of search engines in the United States 2008-2020” that appeared on my screen and downloaded to PDF the chart that appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 48. This chart shows that Microsoft Sites, Bing, account for approximately twenty to twenty-five percent (20-25%) and Verizon Media (consisting of Yahoo and Oath) account for approximately ten to twelve and a half percent (10-12.5%) of all search queries in the United State from 2015 to 2020. See also Seattle Organic SEO, “Comscore Search Rankings October 2020 – Bing Creeps Up the Search Marketing Share Ranks” available at <https://seattleorganicseo.com/comscore-search-rankings-oct-2020-bing-creeps-up-the-search-marketing-share-ranks/> (dated Dec. 18, 2020), a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 48.

I then searched for “Search engine usage by brand in the U.S.” and clicked on the link to “Search engine usage by brand in the U.S. 2020” that appeared on my screen and downloaded to PDF the chart that appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 48. This chart is titled “Search engine usage by brand in the U.S. 2020” and was published on November 19, 2020. It shows the results of a survey conducted of 4,184 respondents in the United States between February and July 2020. The chart indicates that thirty-one percent (31%) of the respondents used Yahoo and twenty-seven percent (27%) of the respondents used Bing in the past 4 weeks.

The Statista website states on its homepage that it is “Global No.1 Business Data Platform.” On its website titled “Why trust Statista” (<https://www.statista.com/aboutus/trust>), it states “For 13 years now, Statista has been the market leader in the provision of reliable business data” and shows that its statistics were cited in over 125,000 news media articles in 2019 and that “[m]ore than 2,000 universities rely on Statista.” Attached hereto as part of Exhibit 48 is a true and correct copy of what appeared on my screen when I went to the Statista homepage and its webpage <https://www.statista.com/aboutus/trust>.

d. On January 28, 2021, I went to the webpage titled “Comscore Releases February 2016 U.S. Desktop Search Engine Rankings” and located at <https://www.comscore.com/Insights/Rankings/comScore-Releases-February-2016-US-Desktop-Search-Engine-Rankings>. I printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 49. This is a press release from Comscore, Inc. that indicates that it “released its monthly Comscore qSearch™ analysis of the U.S. desktop search marketplace.” This analysis showed that Microsoft Sites accounted for twenty-one point four percent (21.4%) and Yahoo Sites accounted for twelve point two percent (12.2%) of the Explicit Core Search Share in the United States and that in February 2016, “31.9 percent of searches were powered by Bing.” This press release states that Comscore, Inc. “is a leading cross-platform measurement company that precisely measures audiences, brands and consumer behavior everywhere.”

VI. General Cigar’s COHIBA Cigars Are Sold at Convenience Stores

40. I attach hereto as Exhibits 50, 51 and 52 evidence that General Cigar’s COHIBA cigars are sold at convenience stores in different locations in the United States.

a. On January 29, 2021, I went to the website located at www.plazaminimart.com and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 50. This website shows that the Plaza Mini-Mart is a convenience store located at 5022 W. Lawrence Avenue in Chicago, Illinois that offers for sale, among other products, beer, bread, candy, chips, cigars, lottery tickets and soda. I paste below a photograph taken by Dean J. Gluth, a Licensed Private Detective, on January 18, 2021, of the outside of the Plaza Mini-Mart:

I clicked on "Fine Cigar" under the "Category" heading on this website and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 50. It showed the following image:

On January 18, 2021, Dean J. Gluth, a Licensed Private Detective, went to the Plaza Mini-Mart at 5022 W. Lawrence Avenue in Chicago, Illinois and asked the clerk at the store if they sold Cohiba cigars. They showed him a box of Cohiba Blue cigars (an image of which I paste below), which he purchased.

See Declaration of Dean J. Gluth, dated February 3, 2021, attached hereto as part of Exhibit 50.

b. On January 26 and February 2, 2021, I went to the Facebook page for “Central Mart” located at <https://www.facebook.com/Central-Mart-196126724313194/> and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 51. I clicked on “See All” under the “Photos” section and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 51. This Facebook page indicates that the Central Mart is a convenience store and tobacco outlet located in York, Pennsylvania that sells “groceries, tobacco products, soda, snacks, coffee, ice-cream etc”

Below is an image appearing on a post dated April 15, 2018 by Central Mart to its Facebook account together with the text “We now carry premium Cigars! Cohiba and Montecristo Crystal Selección - Churchill en Tubo....in stock now...👍😊” A true and correct copy of this post is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 51.

I paste below a true and correct copy of the image at the top of the Central Mart's Facebook account:

c. On January 26, 2021, I went to the website located at <https://www.larrysdrivethru.com/> and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 52. I clicked on “About Us” and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 52. I clicked on “Fine Cigars” and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 52. I clicked on “Monthly Ad” and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as part of Exhibit 52.

This website states that the store, located in Poland, Ohio, sells beer, wine, “typical convenience store foods” as well as cigars, including the General Cigar COHIBA cigar, both in a “Drive Thru” feature and a “Mini Mart.” It also shows that it sells groceries such as baking goods, cereals, coffee, canned goods, snacks, pet supplies, household items.

Images posted on the Larry’s Drive Thru website include the following:

VII. General Cigar's Premium COHIBA Cigars Are Frequently Sold on CigarBid Individually For Five Dollars ($5) Or Less and In Packs of Five (5) or Ten (10) Cigars For Less Than Twenty Dollars ($20)

41. Between January 9 and 21, 2021, I went to the CigarBid online cigar auction website (www.cigarbid.com), bid on, won and purchased the following General Cigar COHIBA cigars at the prices identified in the chart below. In sum, I paid between:

- $17 and $19.50 for a pack of ten (10) General Cigar Red Dot COHIBA cigars or between $1.70 and $1.95 per cigar;
- $12 and $14 for a pack of five (5) General Cigar Red Dot, Nicaragua and Connecticut COHIBA cigars or between $2.40 and $2.80 per cigar; and
- $2 and $5 for individual General Cigar Red Dot, Black, Blue and Puro Dominicana COHIBA cigars.

The prices I paid were a small fraction of the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price (MSRP), generally just 15% of the MSRP and in one instance less than 9% of the MSRP, as shown in the chart below.

I was not the only person to win these auctions, as shown in the chart below. Each auction included multiple units of the General Cigar COHIBA cigars for sale. Over one hundred and fifty (150) other people purchased these same General Cigar COHIBA cigars for the same or very similar prices as shown in the chart below.

After January 21, 2021, I went to www.cigarbid.com and saw that similar auctions for General Cigar's COHIBA cigars for similar prices occurred and are occurring after January 21, 2021.

The Cigar Bid website only sells to persons located in the United States. I went to www.cigarbid.com's Frequently Asked Questions section, a true and correct copy of which is attached here as Exhibit 53, and, in response to the question of whether the website ships internationally, it states that this website "currently ship to the US and APO [Army Post Office] addresses only. We do not handle international shipping at this time." The www.cigarbid.com website describes itself as "America's #1 Online Cigar Auction" website. See Exhibits 53-66.

I attach hereto as Exhibits 54 to 65 true and correct copies of www.cigarbid.com's listing for each of the auctions identified in the chart below as well as photographs I took of the cigars I received in the mail and the receipt for same.

a. The www.cigarbid.com website has a webpage titled “Buy the most well-known Cohiba cigars at low prices here at CigarBid!” in which it describes the “Cohiba” cigars as Symbolizing the good life, Cohiba cigars are the most well-known luxury cigars in the entire world. Known for extravagant taste and complex flavor, true cigar enthusiasts know Cohiba to be one of the best cigar brands around. Originally crafted in the streets of Havana, Cuba, these classic cigars are now manufactured in the Dominican Republic, and these premium handmade cigars are just as delicious and artistic from the beginning.

Cohiba stays on top of the industry trends, and even has a blend crafted by Jay-Z, Cohiba Comador that epitomizes the definition of top-shelf luxury. Cohiba Nicaragua is a full-bodied blend of finely aged tobacco leaves creating a bolder profile than Cohiba's other classic blends. But of course, the most popular Cohiba cigar has always been the original. With five years of research and study, Cohiba Red Dot is the perfect replica of the original Cuban Cohiba. It's 90+ rated countless times, and its undeniably creamy and smooth. You can shop all of Cohiba's fantastic blends here, at CigarBid, for the best prices available.

Attached hereto as Exhibit 66 is a true and correct copy of that webpage, located at <https://www.cigarbid.com/shop/cohiba/2069169/?shop=Cigars>.

b. After receiving the General Cigar COHIBA Black, Blue, Red Dot and Connecticut cigars, I reviewed these cigars to see if it said "Republica Dominicana" or "Dominican Republic" anywhere on the band. At first, I could not find where it said this on any of these cigars. After reviewing all parts of the bands very closely several times and in different lighting, I eventually saw that it said "Republica Dominicana" in silver lettering within the silver band above and beneath the word "COHIBA" on the COHIBA Black, Blue and Red Dot and Connecticut cigars.

I measured the lettering of the words "Republica Dominicana" on the COHIBA Black, Blue, Red Dot and Connecticut cigars; they measured approximately one thirty-second (1/32) of an inch. I felt the band of these cigars; the words "Republica Dominicana" did not feel embossed or raised to my touch.

I would not have seen that the COHIBA Black, Blue, Red Dot and Connecticut cigars stated "Republica Dominicana" on their bands had I not deliberately looked for these words.

I paste below the General Cigar COHIBA Red Dot cigar in Exhibit 60 (that I purchased via CigarBid) with an arrow indicating where it says "Republica Dominicana" in 1/32 of an inch lettering in silver against a silver background:

VIII. Similarity of the Lettering of the General Cigar and Cuban COHIBA Cigars

42. On January 29, 2021, I went to the webpages for General Cigar's COHIBA Comador and Edición Diamante cigars on General Cigar's Cigar World website, located at <https://www.cigarworld.com/cigars/cohiba/comador/> and <https://www.cigarworld.com/cigars/cohiba/edicion-diamante/> and printed and downloaded to PDF what appeared on my screen, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 67. Both of these pages show the COHIBA mark without a red dot in the in "O" of COHIBA. See also supra Paragraph 27 (showing that General Cigar operates the website Cigar World).

43. Below I show the lettering of General Cigar's COHIBA and the Cuban COHIBA:

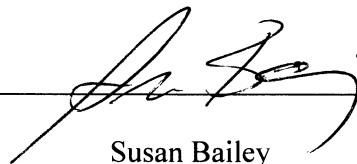

CUBAN COHIBA - Image from Appendix G to the Written Direct Testimony of Alan Siegel in Empresa Cubana del Tabaco v. Culbro Corp. , 97 Civ. 8399 (S.D.N.Y.) (June 2, 2003)
GENERAL CIGAR COHIBA - Image from General Cigar's 1995 Trademark Registration at the USPTO (Registration No. 1,898,273). According to the evidence in that case, General Cigar's trademark counsel provided a photocopy of the word "COHIBA," taken from Petitioner's Cohiba box, to the Trademark Drawing Group in order to prepare the block letter drawing of COHIBA attached to the General Cigar's USPTO December 30, 1992 trademark application. 180 TTABVue 177-181 (PX 890). General Cigar's Vice President Assistant General Counsel testified that the typeface of its registered COHIBA mark is "the same" as the typeface of the Cuban COHIBA mark. GENERAL CIGAR COHIBA - From Declaration of Steven Abbot, dated Sept. 29, 2020, General Cigar's Senior Brand Manager ("Abbot Declaration"), Para. 17, 287 TTABVue 10 (image provided by Abbot of General Cigar's "long standing graphic COHIBA mark, used on all COHIBA subbrands"). Cohiba & Montecristo Humidor Collection

▼ 237 RATINGS | WRITE A REVIEW

Here's the deal: I've compiled 20 top-notch Churchills from the world's biggest and most high-end brands, packed them in a gorgeous glasstop humidor, and discounted the heck out of it. Over $250 off, 69% below MSRP, call it what you will. But no matter what you call it, this deal is killer. Treat yourself to the best and enjoy unthinkable savings on the delicious, prestigious Montecristo and Cohiba brands. Big flavor, big Churchills, big brands, big discount...tiny price. Put a bow on it and call it a day.

Cohiba & Montecristo Humidor Collection includes:
10 - Cohiba Red Dot Churchill (7" x 49)
10 - Montecristo Classic Churchill (7" x 54)
1 - Whitetail 50-Capacity Glasstop Humidor

Mar 30, 2017

"What can I say, I have 5 left of each, and I do not smoke them because I don't want to be without them, Cohiba are my favorite, but what a surprise, Montecristos are excellent, the flavor and burn rivals the Cohibas, different cigars but just as enjoyable, I never understood the price tag, now I know, and it's well worth it, thank you CI."

Not impressed

Jan 25, 2017

"Humidor showed up with broken glass but packaging was not damaged in any way, strange. Some cigars also had dents from the way they were packaged in the humidor. CI replaced the order. Net humidor ok except for lid is slightly crooked. Some dents in cigars again. Nothing bad enough to complain about. Had one Monticristo so far, Awful. Would not burn down one side. Taste was not that of other Montie's I have had. Maybe because they are the classics? Cohiba taste harsh. Maybe needs more time in the humidor. I am usually pleased with the red dots."

Jan 04, 2017

"This is a GREAT DEAL for great cigars of this quality. I am always looking for samplers with the Cohiba red dot and this one with the montecristo hits on all cylinders and can't say enough about both brands. The humidor is of high quality plus I appreciate the built-in hygrometer and the glass window. All I need to do is just look at it and can see the humidity level every time I go for a cigar. RIGHT ON!"

Cigar 101: Wtf Are These Cigar Acronyms And Terms? – By Mike Holmes

Posted on September 23, 2019

For this months cigar 101 topic I really had to think hard on what I wanted to write about. I know I put a feeler out for ideas, unfortunately I decided not to use them! Sorry folks. Instead I got an excellent idea for a very informative article. It seems like weekly, I see this question posed on social media by various people who are either new to the cigar culture or just old heads confused about acronyms and other cigar slang words that are often used online. So without further hesitation, I will begin to answer the Question, WTF are these acronyms and terms? I will also define for you what they mean!

What is a herf?

This is the most asked question that I hear. I spend a lot of time in local cigar shops where some of the patrons aren't big into social media many of them simply don't use this word in their vocabulary.

A herf is simply a gathering of cigar smokers. I have seen several different stories about the origin of the word herf, but the explanation that I will go with will be from the members of a cigar newsgroup alt.smokers.cigars (the OGs of cigar forums from the 90's). They actually coined the phrase. These cigar smokers were around on message boards and forums way prior to what we know today as social media. From the word's inception on these forums it became the word to use when describing hanging out with a group of Cigar Smokers... having a herf! Also coined was the phrase Vherf which is short for "virtual herf" which is when you smoke a cigar with someone over video chat or some other virtual connection.

PSSITA

This is the second most asked question which is, what does PSSITA mean? Well we know that it doesn't mean "Put Some Sausage In The Ass" or "Pour Some Semen In The Alley", which are typical smart ass comments posted when asked this question (all in good fun). Actually PSSITA means "Put Some Smoke In The Air". This acronym is typically used when making a post to social media and is just a general phrase that is used to signify that you are relaxing and smoking a Cigar. So now that you know let's PSSITA!

BOTL & SOTL

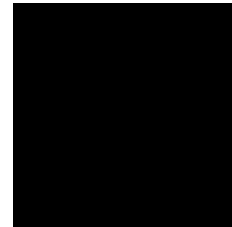

SEARCH

GET 15% OFF WITH

SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Cigars Are Not A Safe Alternative To Cigarettes.

J.C. NEWMAN CIGAR CO.

COMPANY

TABAC TRADING CO.

ARTESANO DEL TOBACCO

These 2 acronyms are used to describe male and female cigar smokers as either Brother of the Leaf or Sister of the Leaf. There are actually cigar clubs with the same names but the terms have become popular and have been used to describe male and female cigar smokers. All cigar smokers are a brotherhood and sisterhood so what better way to address someone than to say "Hey BOTL" or "Hey SOTL".

Shit stick, Dog rocket, Turd

These terms are used to describe a cigar that is simply not a good cigar. It could be the way the cigar is burning or the flavors you are getting from the cigar. A lot of times, cigar smokers use these terms a little too loosely, it is important to remember that everyone has different tastes! So someone's dog rocket might just be someone else's favorite cigar! So be kind to your fellow BOTL or SOTL and just PSSITA!

ISO

You might have seen this acronym on various social media sites. ISO is simply short for "In Search Of." You use it when you are looking to hunt down a specific cigar or cigar related item.

HTF

When people are in search of a specific cigar it usually means that it is a HTF or "Hard To Find" Cigar. Usually a limited production cigar or one that simply isn't in your area.

RAOK

This is extremely new to the cigar community because Facebook now bans the sale and trading of cigars, so in order to remain under the radar, if someone sends you what used to be called a "Bomb" (a gift of cigars) you should now use the term RAOK which means "Rational Act Of Kindness". This helps to remain in good standing with Facebook's policies and still partake of the cigar lifestyle and generosity we all enjoy.

Unicorn

A unicorn is simply a cigar that is very very rare. Not to be confused with a limited edition cigar. Unicorns are something that you will probably smoke once in your lifetime if you are lucky!

CC & NC

CC simply stands for "Cuban Cigar" and NC means that it is a "Non Cuban" cigar.

B&M

GRAN HABANO CIGARS

STICKS CIGARS

DREW ESTATE

EL ARTISTA

DBL CIGARS

PROVIDENCIA CIGARS

The acronym B&M is short for Brick and Mortar, which means it is a cigar shop that has a physical location where you can go to buy and smoke cigars. If you have a B&M in your town, I highly recommend you visit it, as they are the backbone of the industry.

What does it mean to retro-hale?

The act of retro-haling is simply exhaling the cigar smoke through your nose. It is beneficial to retro-hale, it certainly enhances the cigar experience. Your nose is much more sensitive so you will pick up even more notes from the cigar you are smoking. You might be asking yourself how do I retro-hale? All you have to do is push the smoke up into your nasal cavity (do not inhale into your lungs) and then blow the smoke out through your nose. It might take a little while to grasp, but once mastered it will definitely enhance your experience smoking cigars.

In Conclusion

I felt defining some of these acronyms and terms that we use regularly would be really helpful. New cigar smokers will benefit the most but seasoned smokers who aren't as social media savvy will also pick up a few pointers. I'm sure I missed a few acronyms and phrases so if you think of any more feel free to leave a comment below this post and let's discuss!

What is Reddit?

7 months ago · Updated

- Reddit is a source for what's new and popular on the Internet.
- Users like you provide all of the content and decide, through voting, what's good and what's junk.
- Reddit is made up of many individual communities, also known as subreddits. Each community has its own page, subject matter, users and moderators.
- Users post stories, links, and media to these communities, and other users vote and comment on the posts.
- Through voting, users determine what posts rise to the top of community pages and, by extension, the public home page of the site.
- Links that receive community approval bubble up towards #1, so the front page is constantly in motion and (hopefully) filled with fresh, interesting links.

Is there a Cohiba Dominican equivalent of a Cohiba Siglo I?

[Question]

Just looking for a similar 42 ring 102mm length Cohiba that is available in the US. Any help is appreciated, thanks!

I'm sure you can find a Dominican Cohiba in a similar size, but it will not be any more "equivalent" than any other cigar in that size. There is no relation between the companies that produce Dominican and Cuban Cohibas. The name thing is just misleading

One night I was wandering in Indianapolis.

I was alone, my family was at the hospital with my brother pre-surgery (he's all good now). So I wandered to catch the vibe of downtown and then meander back to the hotel.

On the way back to the DoubleTree, I was drunk and needed to pee. The White Castle was crowded, so I tried to look for somewhere I could take a piss privately.

That's when I saw Lucas Oil Stadium and decided, fuck privacy, I need to avenge the Super Bowl. So I found a corner that wasn't too far behind the fence and let her rip, like a dog marking territory. So to this day, I consider the '07 Super Bowl a total wash.

My friend and I attended the first game to open Lucas Oil, and also were Purdue students at the time. Colts fans were absolutely insufferable at the time. We got there and started drinking around noon for the Sunday night kickoff, blasting a cd of Bears related toons, singing Bear Down every time we scored.

We got ice thrown at us. It was a badge of honor. At the end an old woman asked if we were season ticket holders and when we said no, she said good very indignantly. To which I said I wouldn't hold season tickets in this shithole if you paid me. Bear Down on full blast as we drove out of that dump. Good memories.

I went to school in Indiana and can totally agree about Colts fans. They were so bad until the last few years when the team came crashing down.

Was it 2014 offseason or 2015 when the national media was like "omg colts are super bowl contenders" and then it just didnt happen. That was a glorious year. Now the Colts have sucked for a while and the pompousness has worn off so it's not nearly so bad.

I went to that game as well... The Colts fans were extremely salty but it was definitely our day. When rookie Forte ripped off that 55yd run we went crazy, seems like a long time ago.

Yeah I don't get it. My wife is a packer fan, and sure we talk trash, but I'd never go be a jerk at someone's stadium.

I've always been treated with respect by packer fans at their stadium and always treated them with respect at ours. It's supposed to be a friendly rivalry. This is just fucking weird obsession to hate.

What Does TIL Mean?

How to understand and use this abbreviation

by Paul Gil Updated on April 04, 2020

✓ reviewed by Kayla Dube

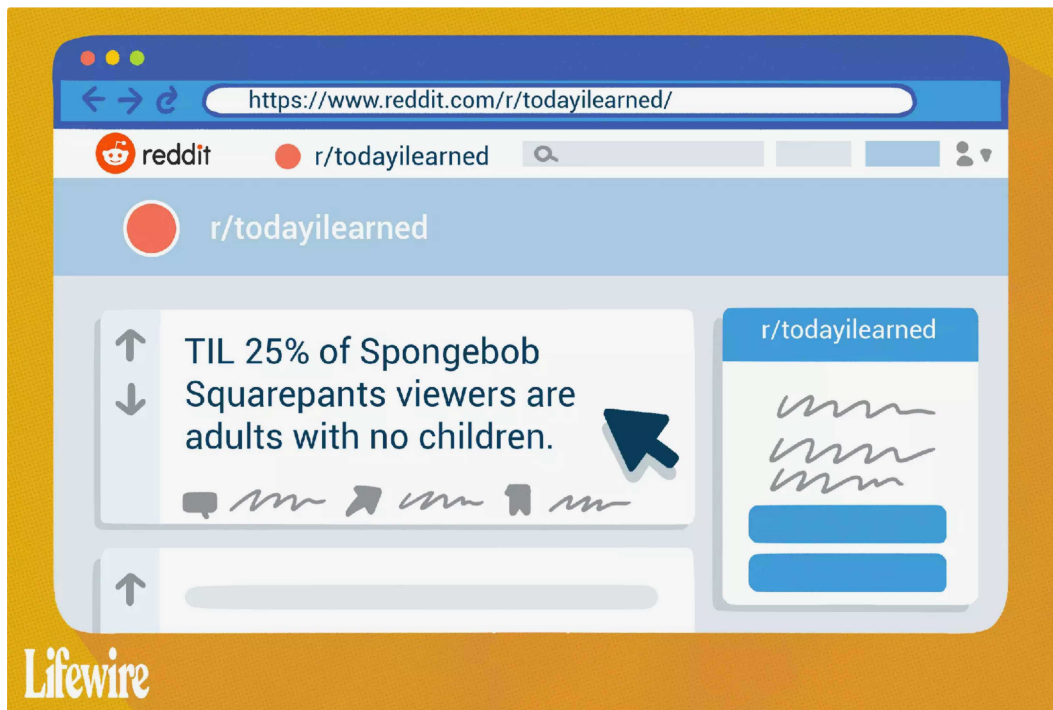

If you've ever seen TIL on the discussion website Reddit or in a text or email message, you might wonder what the person posting it is saying. What does TIL stand for?

TIL Stands for:

Today I Learned

How TIL Is Used

Lifewire / Theresa Chiechi

If someone types TIL, it means they want you to pay attention, or that you may find what they're about to say very interesting. Like most internet jargon, the expression is not suitable for business dealings. TIL is best used on Reddit or in personal texting, email, or online chatting.

Example of TIL in Use

EXAMPLE 1:

"TIL that Pope Francis and Pope John Paul the Second are honorary members of the Harlem Globetrotters."

Advertisement

Advertisement
Ad closed by Google

EXAMPLE 3:

"TIL the patent for the fire hydrant was lost in a patent office fire."

EXAMPLE 4:

"TIL the first can opener was patented on January 5, 1858, 50 years after the can was invented. Before its invention, people used hammers and chisels to open cans."

Origins of TIL

TIL gets its name from a Reddit site subreddit called Today I Learned, where visitors learn something new through posts made by other Reddit users. Reddit members use TIL in the titles of their postings when they discover something fascinating, something that contradicts common knowledge, or a fact that is particularly important and of interest to readers. It's also common to see TIL used in the comments section on Reddit when a user wants to express that an article or someone else's comment was new information to them.

TIL became more popular, and people now used it in texts, emails, and other social media websites, such as Facebook and Twitter, where it means the same thing as it does at Reddit. TIL hasn't become as widespread as other internet acronyms such as LOL and ROFL.

Capitalizing and Punctuating Web and Text Abbreviations

Capitalization is a non-concern when using text abbreviations and chat jargon. Use all uppercase or all lowercase letters, and the meaning is identical.

Advertisement

Proper punctuation is similarly a non-concern with most text message abbreviations. For example, the acronym for "too long, didn't read" can be TL;DR or TLDR. Both are acceptable.

Never use periods (dots) between your acronym letters; it would defeat the purpose of being a shortcut. For example, you would never spell TIL T.I.L., and TTYL ("talk to you later") would never be T.T.Y.L.

Recommended Etiquette for Web and Text Jargon

When tempted to use jargon in messages, evaluate who your audience is, if the context is informal or professional, and then use good judgment. If you know someone well and it is a personal and informal communication, then absolutely use abbreviations. On the flip side, if you are just starting a friendship or professional relationship, avoid abbreviations until you've developed a relationship rapport.

If messaging in a professional context with someone at work, or with a customer or vendor outside your company, avoid abbreviations altogether. Spelling out full words shows professionalism and courtesy. It is much smarter to err on the side of being too professional at first, and then relax your communication over time organically.

Lifewire is part of the Doidash publishing family.

About Lifewire

Who's behind the technology site you're reading?

⇒ Who We Are

Our WritersEditorial GuidelinesFact CheckersOur TeamWhat Our Readers SayAbout DotdashContact Us

Who We Are

Lifewire provides expert-created, real-world technology content for more than 10 million users like you every month. We have more than 50 technology professionals — software developers, educators, web designers, speakers, consultants, and more — all producing articles with informative visuals and straightforward instruction. Our library of more than 17,000 pieces of content, created and refined over the past 20 years, helps you fix tech gadgets that aren't working properly, learn how to perform specific tasks, and find the best products — without the confusing jargon you'll find on other sites. Lifewire is a top-10 technology information site, according to comScore, a leading Internet measurement company, and has been honored with multiple Communicator Awards.

You don't live and breathe technology, but you do use it everyday and you expect it to work. Our goal is to help you get the most out of the technology in your life. We are Lifewire, Tech Untangled.

Our Writers

Our writers have extensive experience working with the tech they write about. They are leaders in the field — hosting talks, creating technology videos or podcasts, developing apps and software, or teaching online/in-person classes about their subjects — and the majority of our writers hold advanced degrees. Most importantly, these are real people who use the technology they write about, and are passionate about sharing that knowledge and expertise with others.

Meet some of our writers:

SAM COSTELLO

Sam Costello is a professional technologist and has been writing for Lifewire since 2016, with a career in technology dating back to 2001.

Prior to Lifewire, Sam covered technology for About.com for nearly ten years. He has been featured on CNN, PC World, InfoWorld, ComputerWorld, NetworkWorld and MacWorld, and he's been U.S. correspondent for IDG News Service and an on-air guest for numerous radio stations discussing various types of technology. He is also the author of My Apple TV and My iPad for Kids. Sam holds a B.A. in Media Studies from Ithaca College.

KAREN MARCUS

Karen Marcus is a professional freelance writer with more than 20 years experience in the technology space. She's written for Brainstorm, Website Compass, and Business Connections eNewsletter, as well as tech companies including HP, IBM, Intel, Samsung, and Amazon Web Services.

She has a B.A. in English Literature from University of Colorado at Denver; and an M.A. in English from Colorado State University.

ROSE DE FREMERY

Rose de Fremery is a former IT Director and has been writing about technology since 2011. Her work has appeared on sites like Ziff-Davis, Sage, Vonage, The Mighty Guides, and more.

In addition to her work for Lifewire, Rose currently writes about technology trends for leading companies such as HP, IBM, Intel, and WordPress. She has also served as Managing Editor of The Social Media Monthly. Rose holds a B.A. in English with a minor in Computer Science from Oberlin College.

Editorial Guidelines

We take great pride in the quality of our content. While we cover hundreds of different topics, they all have one thing in common: readers looking for tech information they can trust. Our writers create high-quality, original, accurate, expert content that is free of ethical concerns, conflicts, or misinformation.

All of our content is professionally edited before publishing to ensure compliance with our strict standards. Our experienced editors check for readability, formatting, spelling and grammar, photo and screenshot quality, inclusive language and imagery, and much more.

Our product reviews are independent and based on research and product testing — if you visit links within our content, we may receive commissions from your purchases, but we never receive any compensation or consideration for the content of our recommendations. Learn more about our review process here.

Fact Checkers

Lifewire's team of experienced fact checkers provides a critical layer of review to ensure content integrity. This group of professionals is selected and vetted for journalistic and subject matter expertise. They are tasked with researching all statements of fact to ensure that news and technical information articles are accurate and comprehensive and statistics are properly sourced and up to date.

If we are meaningfully correcting a news article, whether part of our fact checking process or not, we simultaneously publish a correction at the bottom of the article that explains details of the change.

Our Team

Tim Fisher

General Manager, VP, Lifewire.com

In addition to serving as GM and VP of Lifewire, Tim has been professionally installing and servicing technology for over 30 years and writing about it for more than 20 years. Tim likes to talk (a lot) and has been quoted or referenced in many major online and print publications, including The New York Times, Forbes, Computerworld, Engadget, and hundreds of other sites. When he's not at work, he's busy trying to figure out when the universe will end.

S.E. Slack

Strategy Director, Lifewire.com

A true crime fanatic, S.E. (Sally) Slack has been a professional technology writer writing for consumer and business publications for longer than she cares to admit. As the Strategy Director at Lifewire, she manages a team of more than 20 freelance writers and employees to produce and maintain all the how-to and fix content on the site. When she's not working, she's researching someone's family tree to see if they or a family member fit the crime. Is your DNA profile next on her list?

Rob LeFebvre aka 'The Coolest Dude at Lifewire' is the Senior News Editor for the site. He manages a team of more than a dozen technology journalists to expose and explain the industry from an honest and sometimes slightly irreverent viewpoint. His tech news background experience includes stints all over the Web plus he writes and produces Tech Today, the newsletter that delivers daily tech news with a twist. You can usually find Rob after-hours playing a gig with his band, where his multi-tasking skills cover voice, bass, guitar, drums, and keys. Get his autograph if you catch him one night!

Rob LeFebvre

Senior News Editor

Alan Bradley

Alan Bradley is a Senior Tech Editor for Lifewire. Previously he was a senior writer for GamesRadar and PC Gamer but we've forgiven him for that since he's also written for publications like Rolling Stone. Despite being a Certified Geek™, Alan's paradoxically a big sports fan who loves the NFL and annoying Americans who don't understand what he's talking about with rambling monologues about the technical complexities of Formula One. His parents are grateful that the PC repair business he ran from his bedroom in his early teens didn't set their house on fire.

Ajay Kumar

Ajay Kumar is a Tech Commerce Editor for Lifewire. He has more than a decade of experience in tech journalism, consumer electronics, and digital publishing. Ajay has reviewed hundreds of tech products during that time and shared his honest, unflinching opinions with anyone who will listen. In his spare hours, he spends far too much time building and rebuilding his gaming rig, losing money trading cryptocurrency, and trying to find the best flight deals to escape to Europe.

Alice Newcome-Beill has been the associate commerce editor for Lifewire since December 2019. She graduated from CUNY Brooklyn College and her work has appeared on PCMag, PC Gamer, and GamesRadar. In her spare time, she enjoys building computers, emulating old software in DOSBox, and cycling.

Jerri Ledford

Writer, Editor

Jerri L. Ledford is a writer, editor, and Content Analyst for Lifewire with more than 20 years' experience writing for consumer and business publications. We fondly think of her as our resident military brat. As the child of a career Navy man, she went to 12 different primary schools and has been in Iceland, Cuba, Germany, and Mexico plus 49 of the 51 states.

Kyree Leary

News Editor

Kyree Leary has been a technology and gaming writer for nearly 10 years. His work has appeared on Digital Trends, IGN, Futurism, and more. Fun fact: Kyree once helped build a very basic speech recognition TV as part of his high school engineering project. He can't prove it worked, though, because he accidentally shocked it (and himself). He's fine now. Really.

Molly K. McLaughlin has been a technology writer since 2004. Her work has appeared on many tech sites across the web including PCMag, Dealnews, and Wirecutter. Born and raised in NYC, Molly loves to travel when she's not testing tech instructions for Lifewire readers. What you don't know about her is that she's a trivia fanatic. Don't bother looking for her on Wednesday nights; she's too busy shouting facts at her friends via Zoom (now that her local group has moved online during the pandemic.)

What Our Readers Say

"I tried to power on my laptop and there was no sign of power. Today is an important day because I have many deadlines that I have to meet by midnight. I am incredibly grateful to your instructions on how to turn on a computer that is not powering on. Thank you very much for writing an article about this. You saved me much grief, time, and further pain."

–Naz, March 2019

"Thank you so so much for the advice on this web site. Now I can truly listen to Spotify with happiness and the sound is out of this world. You guys are pretty smart. I've been having problems with Bluetooth through my cell for weeks and weeks and now the audio sounds great for Spotify on my Kenwood stereo. Thank you truly from the bottom of my heart. Have a great evening!"

–Charlene, February 2019

"I spent three hours trying to create an html signature for Thunderbird and then I found your site! It took me 5 minutes... simple! Thanks for the very clear instructions, unlike so MANY tech sites. I'll be back! Have a great day!"

–Phil, February 2019

consumers into paying top dollar for what they THINK is an "offering by a well known Cuban company." They're not.

If the OP is paying $5 for them, that's not really that bad, and if he enjoys them, he's certainly within his rights to smoke them. But when people like you tell others that they're an "offering by a well known Cuban company," they're not.

So your biggest beef with them is that they're essentially a scam based off of the original "cuban" Cohiba? The more you know I guess. I was aware they weren't real cubans, but didn't know they weren't the same company. I Thought they just started growing, and distributing in the U.S.

Imagine Sweden becoming a communist hellhole and isolated from the world. The next day I open up Saab in America and start selling a shitty version just because I can, using the same name, and everyone thinks it's still affiliated with the original. I'd be a giant douche, right?

Absolutely. Just read about their court case from 2010. Pretty shitty to steal a brand from right underneath a company.

↑ 2 ↓ Reply Share ...

lurker_to_poster 1 month ago

If they just called them "Red Dots" and sold them for $3, $4, $5, whatever, I'd have no problem with them. Let people who smoke cheap cigars smoke them at a fair price. But when they steal the name "Cohiba", and sell them for $10-$15-$20 because of name recognition, NOT because they're $10-$20 cigars, I have a problem with that. I hate seeing my BOTL and SOTL getting ripped off.

Who cares. They aren't bad and you can pick them up for 3 bucks on CBid. That's my point.

Then stop spreading misinformation that they're "the best offering by a well known Cuban company." This is a forum for people to discuss and learn about cigars, and not to be fed misinformation.

Red dot is a great cigar for the price. Regardless of what company it comes from fake or not.

Yeah I have a couple of those I got in the sampler packs. I've just been trying a lot of different smokes while trying to fill up the massive humidor my girlfriend got me for christmas. Trying to see what I like as well. Wanted to at least try a couple of them based on the hype. Don't think I would buy them again, but the one I had was worth 5 bucks to me.

Probably want to get some food grade silicone and seal the inside of glass. Nearly all glass top humidors tend to leak in that particular area.

U want it up in the 75 range before you put the sticks in there, I would not put your own silicone on this, manufacturer seems to be very confident in the seal of this unit...

 3 Reply Give Award Share Report Save

Oh alright. I thought 75 was too high. Thats why I took it apart. Now I know.

So the cigars will absorb the moisture, and bring it down? I've got them in a sealed plastic container now with boveda which is what I've had up until this point

Order a tray, thing is a pain to refill with cigars in the bottom.

I don't really have a lot right now, but will definitely do that when it fills up a bit more. Where would I order one that fits?

1 Reply Give Award Share Report Save

I bought off Amazon , had to chamfer the corners to fit, so much better

2 Reply Give Award Share Report Save

So far it's working really well. Seasoned it yesterday, and it went up to 75 yesterday, and I took it apart real quick to double check I didn't oversaturate with the liquid. Today it's right at 71. Just gonna get some of that food grade silicone to make sure the glass is sealed. Seems to be working well though. I'll probably consider a tray later if my collection builds a lot.

1 Reply Give Award Share Report Save

Yes sticks will usually absorb, also the time it takes you to take it apart and your ambient RH will drop accordingly. Little extra is ok when it gets filled.

Thanks for the help! I appreciate it.

Knife buying questionnaire

The "which knife should I buy" questionnaire:

Copy the below text into a post or comment and provide answers to the questions. Sample answers are provide which you may select from, or add your own.

1. Style? - (western / Japanese)
2. Steel? - (stainless / carbon / carbon clad in stainless)
3. Handle? - (western / hybrid / Japanese)
4. Grip? - (pinch / handle)
5. Length? - (165mm / 180mm / 210mm | 8.5" / 240 | 10" / 270mm)
6. Uses? - (fish / meat / vegetables etc.) eg. what will the knife/knives be used for?
7. Care? - (whetstones / honing / paid service)
8. Budget?

Notes and other details to help you with filling out the questionnaire:

- Carbon will rust if left wet and discolor when used (some people who like patinas see this as a plus).

Unfortunately I don't have an academy near me, the closest one is about 2 hours away, and here in florida every store I've been to is taxing out the ass. Lol might have to make the drive, and see if I can get a deal though. I got 500 rounds from them for 90 bucks when I caught some federal in stock, but I haven't been able to get any from them since.

Headed to the cigar lounge tmrw. Anyone want to recommend a Cohiba?

My normal go to is a Romeo e Julieta 1875 but I'm wanting to broaden my experiences. What's your favorite Cohiba?

Please, please don't buy a non-Cuban Cohiba at a B&M. They're meh $3 cigars that you can get in samplers FOR $3, that B&Ms sell for upwards of $10 because of the name, which General Cigar ripped off from Habanos S.A. because Habanos S.A. can't legally sell real Cohibas in the U.S.

There are so, so many better $10-$15 cigars that you can get for your money.

I plugged the variables that make an 1875 an 1875 into a search engine - Dominican origin, Dominican filler, Dominican binder, Indonesian wrapper - into a search engine (trying to find you a better cigar, along the lines of what you already like), and only the 1875s came up. So nothing else with exactly those parameters.

Then I added Sumatra wrappers to the search - because Sumatra is a specific Indonesian island known for good cigar wrappers - and this time several choices came up - La Flor Dominicana Ligero and Double Ligero and Colorado Oscuro; Aging Room Quattro F55; La Aurora Preferidos (the Emerald one); and Diamond Crown Maximus. Any of those would be better than a non-Cuban Cohiba. But several of them are pretty strong cigars, and your 1875s are considered "medium". The La Aurora Preferidos Emerald are also rated "medium", and the LFD (single) Ligero and the Aging Room Quattro F55 are rated "medium-to-full". So any of those three would be my recommendation based on what you like already.

True, and I wouldn't eliminate stronger cigars for that reason. But I was trying to find something as close to his medium 1875s to make an easy transition.

That Double Ligero IS pretty strong though ...

You have no clue what you are talking about.

First off, General leases the rights from for cohiba, they handle distribution throughout north America.

Second, prices are set by manufacturer, not by the B&M stores.

In my opinion, you sir should probably think, before you type.

DO NOT buy a Cohiba from a cigar lounge. They're average cigars that are crazy overpriced.

Buy something by Arturo Fuente. Look for Arturo Fuente Hemmingway. They're not hard to find. Or something with AJ Fernandez in the name. He works with lots of different companies to blend cigars and his stuff is generally very good.

Seriously--do not pay ridiculous prices for a Cohiba just because of the name. The company has no connection to the Cuban cigar. It's just a marketing gimmick.

Do you vote? If so, for whom?

I'm loving the discussion and information on this sub. While I did vote for trump in 2016, I believe I'll vote for Jacob Hornberger in 2020. Obviously he is a libertarian, not an AnCap, but I do agree with him on a lot. While I don't honestly think he has any chance of winning, I believe if he did, it would be a big step in the right direction. Your thoughts?

I do vote for the candidate that won't destroy the economy. If we have a strong economy and freedom we'll reach a government free society someday, that's why I stand against the left and vote for the more capitalist candidate there is.

My dream is to live until a minarchist society is possible everywhere in the world and then we'll go from there. I don't think I'll live until a 100% government free society happens but I'd be happy to live in a world with little government power. That's why I always vote the right.

I never said I want to date a 16 years old, but I suppose you went to check my post history and saw that question about dating a 16 years old in countries where it's legal to do so, and based on that you called me a pedophile. How smart of you to do that, it probably took you 40 seconds and now you know everything about my life.

By the way, as cliché as it sounds the correct word you are looking for is ephebophilia. No matter what communists say on their memes, ephebophilia and pedophilia are different, biologically and morally.

Meh, I didn't want to respond to this but I figured I had to defend myself.

You are not a libertarian if you think ephophilia is ok neither you are a libertarian if you support war

What? Literally the government set the age of 18 as the majority of age, libertarians didn't have anything to do with it, you seriously need to read a lot...

I don't support war the way you think I do. I think there's no way to stablish a government free society with other oppressive governments ready to take advantage of that, maybe it's too deep for you, so I won't waste my time explaining.

"deep"

Stop acting as if you are actually smart what part of "no aggression" don't you understand?

Ephophilia and pedophilia are both aggression and horrible both scientifically and morally

I voted with my feet and left the USA and only go where governments are too poor to enforce their laws. It's amazing how much freedom I found even though I live in countries nobody would consider free.

This winter I moved to Bali, Indonesia and super glad I decided to come here. It's probably the freest place on earth. There was a 1 day lockdown. We have been free to assemble and move around during this entire pandemic.

Most of the western restaurants have shutdown but a few stayed open so we can still go out to eat. My daughters kindergarten only shutdown for 2 weeks. This place has been such an ideal place to be.

I can say Bali might be a great place to consider as long as the Indonesian government does not intervene with their governing approach.

The Balinese are peaceful and friendly. There is food everywhere here so food shortages are not a concern for me. We eat a highly focused plant based diet and have fresh produce delivered to us 3 times a week.

As long as banks stay open then I can't see anything wrong with this place. If a problem happens with the banks then I could go to the crypto exchange Indodax and sell crypto for cash as a backup.

Looking for recommendations on a well built and quiet condo complex in Atlanta, Midtown or Buckhead

Apartments/Homes

I'm starting to look for a condo in Atlanta/Buckhead. There doesn't seem to be a lot of online information on which buildings are built well and have good sound insulation. If you live in an Atlanta condo, I'd appreciate your feedback, good or bad. Thanks!

Realm Condominiums in Buckhead is by far the safest and most efficiently run condo Community I've seen. Around the clock service and many layers of security. The amenities are wonderful and the building is always perfectly clean. They've implemented a lot of sanitization features since the start of COVID as well.

If you want good sound insulation stay away from the units around collier and defoor. PM me if you want the complex info, it looks like a fantastic deal on the surface but it's a trap.

Ok, Collier is around 285/20 on the west side I believe. Not sure where defoor is, around the airport maybe? I haven't been looking at those areas but I appreciate the information! I'll stay away :)

$295 for this size. More for the bigger sizes. In my opinion that's very reasonable considering $60-70 in yarn and well over 100 hours of labor. She makes this size of striped or houndstooth blankets for $195 as well. They aren't as time consuming without the stars.

Review #1: Cohiba Red Dot Toro en Tubo

[Review]

Hello r/cigars! I've been a lurker here for a while but figured I'd finally make a post about my first Cohiba, the red dot toro en tubo. I'm still pretty new to cigars, but have been into whiskey for a while so my journey into cigars has been very enjoyable so far! Getting into my opinion, I was really looking forward to this stick given the reputation of Cohiba, and it was indeed a fine smoke. It was densely packed and had slight veins but no soft spots. The wrapper was velvety smooth and the cigar seemed to be well constructed overall. After lighting up, things started off fairly mild but transitioned fairly abruptly in the second third with some pepper and saffron-like notes coming forward. Smoke output was consistently good throughout the around 1:15 it took me to get through the stick, and it burned with a sharp line that didn't need much attention to keep even. Overall, it was a good smoke bit I'm not sure if it was worth the ~$18 out the door it cost me given that other smokes I've had including the My Father Flor de las Antillas and RYJ 1875 Verona's Court come in at just over half the price of this smoke. What do you think about this cigar r/cigars? As I said before, I've thoroughly enjoyed my experience with getting into cigars thus far and am looking to trying my first Arturo Fuente and Padron soon as I've heard both brands are phenomenal. If anyone has any other recommendations, please let me know in the comments! Thanks for being such a great community!

Just an fyi in case you don't know this already, but there are 2 Cohiba companies - the Cuban and the non-Cuban - and they're not at all affiliated with each other. Way back when, the Cuban companies (aka the Cuban govt) sold the rights to their brand names to American companies who then started making cigars under those names but using tobacco from Nicaragua and the Dominican Republic. The whole point, of course, was to cash in on the famous name brand. And it worked, because many newer cigar smokers feel the same way you did when you said "I was really looking forward to this stick given the reputation of Cohiba." I'm not coming down on you at all, I'm just informing you a bit on the subject. So just keep in mind that the Cuban Cohiba reputation is entirely different than the non-Cuban Cohiba reputation. As others here have commented already, many people don't care for the non-Cuban Cohiba at all, myself included. Not only are the non-Cubans way overpriced (because of the name), they're just plain average in terms of quality and flavor. Of course opinions do vary, but there it is.

IMHO, Non Cuban Cohibas are ok.... But not if you pay MSRP or more.

AnIncoherentWhiteGuy 2 years ago
After this one, I'd definitely agree. I'd be much happier if I paid around $8 for this one!

Iccream_and_cigars 2 years ago
I've gotten Red Dot Cohibas on Cigarbid for less than 3 dollars each. That MSRP is obscene. Having said that, I think most everyone overpays for stuff when they first get into cigars. Also I'm not a big fan of the Red Dots. They're pretty bland. The Black and the Nicaraguan were both pretty decent if you can get them for 5 bucks or less. I definitely wouldn't pay more than 6 bucks for any of the Non-Cuban Cohibas. They're all marketing set to sucker in newer cigar smokers. There's lots of companies like that in cigars. It's not easy to navigate at first. Keep at it and you'll find some good smokes for cheaper.

Try the Hoyo La Amistad by AJ Fernandez. It's a pretty mellow and flavorful smoke and you can usually find them for under 6 bucks online. Most anything AJ Fernandez puts his name on is pretty good, actually. And they're way cheaper than the big brands newer smokers get drawn into.

You can easily find non Cuban Cohibas for around that price online.

I bought Cohiba blue at local shop and paid premium for it.. cuz I didn't know better.

Perfectly good cigar but not for the price I paid. But found good deal online. Makes it worth it.

God no. Even when I've gotten these at $3 in samplers, they're still disappointing - meh at best. I gave my last one away, and then somebody traded me another one that is still sitting in my humidor.

For $18, you could have gotten a high end Fuente or a Padron Anniversary series.

I live overseas and I understand this all too well from my staff of stories from their home towns. They work here to support an entire family back home. We take so much for granted at times.

Overview

Small size, big flavor.

Cohiba is the best-known name in cigars. After Castro took control of Cuba, this brand was commissioned by the Dictator to make the finest Cuban cigars available. Early on, they were reserved for dignitaries and high-ranking government officials. Over time the cigars became available to a wider audience, and are now considered the top cigar manufactured in Cuba today.

Mama-say, mama-sah, ma Macassar

Walk up to anyone on the streets, ask them to name a cigar brand, and chances are they're gonna say "Cohiba." Cohiba has built their legacy brick by brick for decades, from their Cuban origins to their innovative new blends like Cohiba Nicaragua. With Cohiba Macassar, the Modern Luxury line continues its epic streak of successes. This new blend represents the pinnacle of the brand's offerings. They're big shoes to fill, but I promise you, Cohiba Massacar is the real deal.

Each box of 10 is packaged in an elegant wood case made with ebony macassar, some of the rarest hardwoods in the world. For the blend, Cohiba has put together an insane collection of tobaccos. Burning this top-shelf stogie you'll get nuances of wood, spice, creamy earth, and most importantly, an unforgettable cigar experience like no other. Put this one on your wish list or snag a box ASAP, because Cohiba Macassar is redefining the game.
